

Reasons to Choose the MSc in Global Business

What students will learn...

- Social and business trends shaping our environment to provide a broad picture of a global reality full of new opportunities.
- Understand multiple cultures, develop leadership skills for a wider business environment.
- How national and international laws shape the practices of contracts and sourcing.
- Develop the necessary skills to manage multinational projects.
- Acquire skills to negotiate in multicultural environments.
- Gain an understanding of the financial risks and opportunities of doing business internationally.
- Analytical tools and techniques in understanding opportunities and risks to global transactions.

